

Appendix: Listing of Central Highland Prisoners, May 2006

The following listing of highlanders currently imprisoned or detained in Vietnam for peaceful expression of their religious or political beliefs, or for attempting to flee to Cambodia, should not be considered to be exhaustive. Vietnam does not allow access to its prisons by independent monitors, nor does it generally publish the names, locations, and charges against people in detention. This listing is derived from investigations by Human Rights Watch, from official Vietnamese sources as reported in the state media, and from other sources that provided sufficient information to indicate a high probability that the persons have been imprisoned. The charges, when known, are all derived from official Vietnamese state media accounts.¹³⁰

¹³⁰ Errors in listings of prisoners in Vietnam are difficult to avoid because the Vietnamese government does not make public the names of people who have been detained, convicted or sentenced; their places of detention; or the charges against them.

¹ Many Central Highlanders refer to themselves by the name of their first born child; e.g. Ama Hoc is the father of Hoc, and Ami Hoc is the mother of Hoc.

² The Ede family names "Buon Ya" and "Buon Krong" are often shortened to "Bya" and "Bkrong."

³ Most prison sentences in Vietnam are followed by a probationary period, usually of three to five years.
